

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the Study

Islam is one of religions in the world; the believer of Islam is called Muslim. They are spread in the world. According to their holy Quran, Islam asks to the believer to give harmony, love and good act to the other, but there are some parts of followers Islam that have perception that other religion such as Jewish, Christian are their rival, and Islam has to shatter the other religion, so they do extreme act such as bombing and attacking, they are called Terrorist. As a syllogism theory, people in the world think that, “bomber is terrorist” “Muslim is bomber” the conclusion is “Every Muslims is terrorist”. So there is an assumption that every Muslim in the world is terrorist and there is Islam phobia in some countries in the world. For example Muslims in America are often associated with terrorism, Muslim’s live begin uncomfortable after WTC attack at September 11th 2001.

After WTC attack in America, Muslim live uncomfortably in America, because the agents of WTC attack are Muslims from Afghanistan, the agents of WTC attack take an Airplane and bring it to hit the WTC building. American is very sad because of that attack, because WTC is one of the business centers in America. After WTC attack, is the beginning of the war in Afghanistan, because America wants to find the actors of WTC attack. After that attack, Muslims’s life begins different in America, they get different treatment from others. They get discrimination from others in America.

In this movie, the researcher can see the discrimination of Muslim after WTC attacks, such as women cannot use their hijab when they want to go public area, the researcher can see it in My Name Is Khan movie, when Khan's sister in law wants to go to her campus to teach, her hijab is taken away by force. And also, the researcher can see the act of Americans that discriminate Muslims in all of aspects of life, they also discriminate the people that have a name or culture related to Muslim.

The movie of My Name Is Khan has tried to show a beautiful journey of love story and goodness of human being. The major character of this movie is Rizvan Khan, who is played by Shahrukh Khan. He is suffering from Asperger Syndrom which is an Autism disorder. Asperger Syndrom is an autism spectrum disorder (ASD) that is characterized by significant difficulties in social interaction, alongside restricted and repetitive patterns of behavior and interests. According to Karan Johar, writer, co-producer and director of My Name Is Khan, the film is about a multitude of perspectives of the various opinions, facts, and propaganda that comes with the global issue of discrimination and intolerance towards a race of people completely unassociated with the evils of terrorism.

Shahrukh Khan also stated that My Name Is Khan is "not about terrorism, or 9/11. It's about a relationship between two people, between an individual and the State, and between an individual and the country". In short, there are the three important components: a love story, Islam, and a mild form of autism. (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/My_Name_Is_Khan).

My Name Is Khan tells about Rizvan Khan, He is suffering from Asperger Syndrom which is an Autism disorder. He is married to Kajol who plays character of girl named Mandira. Rizvan Khan grows up in India in the Muslim family, his mother is Razia Khan, she is good women and from her, Rizvan studies that there are two kinds of people in the World, a good man and bad man, a distinction more important than any other differences, like those between Hindus and Muslims, his father is Dilawar Anamaullah Khan, works at state transportation in Bowali, Rizvan has a young brother, Zakir.

My Name Is Khan opens when Khan wants to go to New York to meet the President of America, at the San Francisco airport the officer in charge does not let him go and asks why Khan wants to see the President. With touching earnestness, and considerable irony Khan replies that he has a message for the President. That message is “My Name Is Khan and I’m not a terrorist”. In America Khan works as a door to door salesman, and one day he meets a Hindu salon worker, Mandira Rethod, a single mother of Sameer. Both Rizvan and Mandira decide to get married. Zakir chagrins and asks Rizvan to leave. The trios relocated to Benville, open their own salon and live happily with their neighbor. But after the 9-11 WTC attacks, Muslims are blacklist and shunned, included Khan’s family. Their life becomes different their salon is bankrupt because there is no customer coming to their salon. Mandira is still patient to live with Khan, but when Sameer is killed, Mandira blames Rizvan for her plight and asks him to leave, while she decides to pursue Sameer’s death. The ending of this movie is happy ending, it is when Rizvan meets the President and says that he is Khan and he is not a terrorist. Before it, Mandira comes to Khan because she knows that Sameer’s death not because of his new last names, Khan. So when Khan meets the President Mandira accompanies him.

Starring Shahrukh Khan, Kajol and Rani Mukerji, the film was well received by critics and audience alike. (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Karan_Johar)

According to Newsweek, the American weekly news magazine, Shahrukh Khan is one of the 50 most powerful people in the world. (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shahrukh_Khan)

This movie is a good movie because this movie has a moral value that can open our opinion to judge someone. From this movie we can get a word from Razia, Khan's mother "there are two kinds of people in the World, a good man and a bad man, a distinction more important than any other differences, like those between Hindus and Muslims" from that thing we get an education that we should judge someone from their act not from their race, culture, religion, or country.

My Name Is Khan movie also tells about the discrimination of Muslim in America after WTC attack, that attack changes the harmony of life between Muslim and other religion in America. Muslim's women in America cannot use her hijab to go to public area, the shop that is had by Muslims are attacked by people, and Muslims have a bad value in there, so it makes Muslims's life in the difficult condition.

There are some reasons why the researcher chooses My Name Is Khan as the object of the paper. The first reason is because My Name Is Khan movie has a good moral value, the story tells about the Muslim guy who is suffering from Asperger Syndrom which is an Autism disorder. His family live in Borivali, India. They live with Muslim and Hindu as the neighbour. At 1983, there is Hindu and Muslim riots in India. Rizvan hears Muslim men say that Hindus are bad, they should be shouted. Khan repeats it continually, when Khan's mother hears it, she advises Khan that there are two kinds of people in the World, a good man and a bad man. From Khan's mother, we get a good word that we have to judge someone from their act not from their race, culture, religion, or country. This movie also tells about the journey of Khan who wants to meet the President to say that he is Khan, and he is not terrorist. He does it because of his wife, Mandira asks him to do it, it is because Mandira's son is killed, and Mandira thinks that her son, Sameer is Killed because of his last name, Khan. Sameer gets Khan as his last name after Mandira decides to marry with Rizvan Khan, the Muslim man. Khan does a long journey; he goes to many places in America, because he follows where the President will visit. When Khan arrives at Wilhemina, Georgia. He meets mama Jeny and her son. Khan stays at there for a day, mama Jeny and Khan are to be family, mama Jeny regards Khan as a son, and Khan regards mama Jeny as a mother. After leaving Wilhemina, Khan continues his journey, he goes to Los Angeles, and he comes to a campus that the president will be visited. Khan is caught by the police because he says terrorist, and he is detained for several days. There are many responses because of Khan's detaining. And after that Khan is released because he is proven that he is not terrorist. It is because Khan calls FBI to report Dr. Faisal Rehman as the terrorist before he is detained. After that, Khan continues his journey to meet the president, on the way Khan watches the television news that report about hurricane in Wilhemina. Wilhemina is very poor, because of the hurricane many buildings broken, the flood comes, there are many victims. When Khan looks the Wilhemina news, he decides to go to Wilhemina. He helps the Wilhemina's society to repair everything that he can do. So, the news about Khan is increasing. The President and Americans watch a news about Khan, and sympathetic to him. The President knows that Khan wants to meet him. So, when Khan wants to meet the President, when the President visits Georgina, the President lets Khan meet him. The writer gets the meaning of this movie that everyone can get her/ his dreams if they want to fight sincerely.

The second is because this movie is played by Shahrukh Khan, the biggest Bollywood actor in India. According to Newsweek, the American weekly news magazine, Shahrukh Khan is one of the 50 most powerful people in the world. He is a great actor, producer, television host and a lover sports. And the most important is he is a great Muslim India actor. Shahrukh Khan also successfully plays many great movies.

The third is because this movie is categorized as the box-office movie film, so it is interesting movie and one of the big movies that is liked by a lot of people in the world. The performance of the film could not sustain beyond the first or second week in some places, including India and USA My Name Is Khan won a lot of awards from 2011 Filmfare Awards, 2011 Zee Cine Awards, 2011 Star Screen Awards, 6th Apsara Film & Television

Producers Guild Awards, International Indian Film Academy Awards, Big Star Entertainment Awards, and The Global Indian Film And Television Honors.

The fourth reason is because the researcher sees condition of the major character and the Muslim's social condition after WTC attack in America. The researcher raises the Muslim discrimination as the issue, and using Sociological Approach as the theory to analyze. The researcher thinks, that theory is suitable to analyze this movie because this movie has complex story about social condition.

My Name Is Khan is movie that has a social problem condition. There is discrimination to Muslim from other people. Discrimination is one of social problems that there is infirmity from the other because of some aspects of their life. So, the researcher will investigate this movie by Muslim discrimination as the issue. And to analyze the movie the researcher uses Sociological approach to analyze.

Sociology is a study which deals with the society. It is related with the life of human being as a member of society where each other can create all kinds of interactions. The researcher can analyze this movie by using sociological approach because this movie suitable to analyze in the social aspect.
